App Pitch

Skills. Tasks. Opportunities.

Created by: Aamina Mongwe

Date: 18 September 2026

THE IDEA

A modern task-marketplace app designed to connect people who need tasks completed with people who have relevant skills and time.

1. What Problem Does the App Solve?

Many people struggle to find simple, legitimate opportunities to earn income or gain practical work experience.

Existing job platforms often focus on permanent or formal employment, while small tasks and short-term opportunities can be difficult to discover.

- Mzansi Earn addresses this problem by providing a platform where users can discover available tasks, view requirements and payment, apply for suitable opportunities, and track completed work and earnings.

2. Who Is the Target User?

Young people looking for work opportunities and experience.

Freelancers and people interested in short-term tasks.

Students and graduates who want to develop practical skills.

People looking for flexible task-based opportunities.

Small businesses and individuals who need help completing specific tasks.

The platform can be adapted for different users and age groups while following appropriate employment, payment, privacy, and safety requirements.

3. What Are the Key Features?

- User Profiles: Users can create profiles with their name, skills, bio, and contact information.
- Task Discovery: Users can browse available tasks.
- Search and Filters: Tasks can be searched by category and other criteria.
- Task Details: Users can view descriptions, skills required, estimated time, and payment.
- Task Applications: Users can apply for suitable tasks.
- Earnings Dashboard: Users can monitor completed tasks and earnings.
- Post a Task: Task owners can create opportunities for other users.
- Safety Centre: Guidance for identifying suspicious opportunities and avoiding scams.
- Installable App: The prototype can be installed as a Progressive Web App (PWA) on supported devices.

4. How Will It Help People or Generate Value?

- For workers: easier access to task-based opportunities, a place to showcase skills, practical experience, activity tracking, and greater visibility of short-term opportunities.
- For businesses and task owners: access to people with different skills, a convenient way to advertise small tasks, and potentially faster access to assistance for short-term work.

The future full version could generate revenue through a clearly disclosed platform service fee or another sustainable business model, subject to legal and payment requirements.

5. Why Is It Better Than Existing Solutions?

Mzansi Earn is designed specifically around short, practical tasks and flexible opportunities rather than focusing only on traditional full-time vacancies.

A simple, task-focused interface.

Clear information about each opportunity.

Skills-based task discovery.

Built-in profile and activity tracking.

A dedicated safety section.

An installable, mobile-friendly experience.

A design that can be adapted to the South African market.

Mzansi Earn is intended to complement existing job platforms by focusing on task-based and flexible opportunities that may not fit traditional job-board formats.

Pitch Summary

Mzansi Earn connects skills with opportunities. The app gives users a simple way to discover tasks, create a skills profile, apply for opportunities, and track their activity. At the same time, task owners can use the platform to find people who can help with specific jobs. The goal is to make task-based opportunities easier to discover while promoting safety, transparency, and responsible use.

Key Message

“Find tasks. Showcase skills. Discover opportunities.”

Note: The current Mzansi Earn prototype demonstrates the app concept and user experience. Real online accounts, payments, employment services, verification, moderation, and other production features would require secure backend infrastructure and appropriate legal/compliance review.
